Bringing Higher Education to Western Alaska

Northwest Campus instruction extends to students in all portions of Alaska through the College of Rural and Community Development distance schedule.

A Northwest campus student has the option to participate in a local course as well as the option of taking a course offered from any one of eight or more campuses by audio conference and/or Blackboard.

Some academic programs available through Northwest Campus and UAF are:

- Associate of Arts (AA-General Studies)
- Applied Business (AAS)
- Elementary Education (BA)
- Information Technology Specialist (Certificate and AAS)
- Rural Development (BA and MA)
- Social Work (BA)

Other degrees available through sponsorship by Bering Strait regional partners are:

- Allied Health Fields (Occupational Endorsement)
- Allied Health Fields (Certificate and AAS)
- Community Health (Certificate)
- Early Childhood Education (Certificate and AAS)
- Rural Human Services (Certificate and AAS)

For a complete list of degrees, endorsements, and credentials available by distance from all University of Alaska campuses, check out University of Alaska Distance Learning.