The UAF Writing Center offers services to writers throughout rural Alaska and all locations beyond. Our tutors are available to assist students at any phase of the writing process.

Assistance we can provide includes:

- Brainstorming
- Tips for getting started--freewriting, outlining, developing tree diagrams, clusters, etc.
- Drafting issues--following assignment guidelines, developing ideas, organizing ideas, shaping arguments/thesis, writing introductions & conclusions
- Revision strategies--attending to such concerns as word choice, sentence structure, writing conventions, reworking or refining aspects of the draft
- Citation format--MLA, APA, Chicago, Other (CSE, AAA, ASA)
- Any other writing needs

We welcome writing on any topic and at all levels. Whether writers have a scratch outline or a completed draft or something in-between, we can provide a forty-five minute tutorial session no matter your location. We offer advice--always constructive, often great--and the collaboration of student and tutor can lead to strong papers and more confident writers.

The Process:

Students can call (907) 474-5314 or email us at uaf-writing-center@alaska.edu to make an appointment.

The telephone tutorial service is available four nights a week (MTWR 7:00-10:00PM) and Sunday afternoons (Su 1:00-6:00PM).

Students will send us their papers (via email to uaf-writing-center@alaska.edu) prior to the appointment (by 5:00PM for an evening session and by 12:00 noon for a Sunday tutorial).

The tutor will telephone the writer at the appointed time.
